

Testimonial

“ . . For the party, the dojo was the usual clean, the staff was their usual courteous and respectful hosts, and everything was ready for the guests. All guests were greeted and directed to the dojo. Prior to the party all that was required was the approximate number of guests, and a checklist completion [for food and beverage selection]: Easy preparations for the parents. . .”

“ . . Many of the participants were at a dojo for their first time. The focus on basic self-defense was excellent. The participants were enthralled by the practical benefits, and really enjoyed participating. As the birthday girl, she reveled in the ability to “cut loose” during the demonstrations. Everyone had a blast just fooling around and having fun. There were plenty of red cheeks following the class. . .”
